TPS RESOURCES

The following information was compiled by the New York Immigration Coalition (NYIC) in an effort to centralize information about agencies, law firms, and law schools responding to the tragedy in Haiti and the designation of Haiti for Temporary Protected Status (TPS). This document is fluid in that we can add, correct, and remove information. The information contained on this list is by no means exhaustive. If you would like to add upcoming TPS events to this list or otherwise have a question about the information on this list, please contact Tom Shea at The New York Immigration Coalition at Tshea@thenyic.org. I provide this document in Microsoft Word format to make it easier for people to cut and paste information for purposes of creating their own resource directories.

Section I: Upcoming TPS Events

Section II: List of authorized nonprofit immigration legal service organizations

Section III: List of immigration attorneys in private practice

Section IV: List of nonprofit agencies willing to host free TPS legal clinics

Section V: List of law firms and law schools seeking to partner with CBOs to conduct free TPS legal clinics

PLEASE DO NOT REFER HAITIAN NATIONALS SEEKING LEGAL ASSISTANCE TO LEGAL CLINICS UNLESS YOU KNOW THAT THE STAFF AND VOLUNTEERS WHO ARE PROVIDING THE SERVICES HAVE BEEN TRAINED ON TEMPORARY PROTECTED STATUS (TPS) AND ARE OPERATING UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF AN IMMIGRATION ATTORNEY OR A BIA ACCREDITED REPRESENTATIVE . I am concerned that agencies will have untrained staff and volunteers helping people to complete and file TPS applications which in turn could end up putting people in removal proceedings if they are ineligible for TPS.

EVEN IF THE AGENCY IS WELL-MEANING IN TRYING TO RESPOND TO THE DEMAND TO APPLY FOR TPS, YOU DO NOT WANT TO SEND PEOPLE TO AN ORGANIZATION THAT IS NOT COMPETENT TO PROVIDE IMMIGRATION LEGAL SERVICES. THIS "TPS RESOURCES" LIST CONTAINS A SECTION OF AUTHORIZED IMMIGRATION LEGAL SERVICE PROVIDERS THAT ARE WILLING TO ASSIST HAITIAN NATIONALS TO APPLY FOR TPS.

I am also concerned about what will happen with Haitian nationals who receive services through group TPS application workshops. If your organization is offering group TPS application workshops (i.e., helping people complete TPS applications in a group setting), please make sure that you provide them clear guidance about where they can go to receive immigration legal assistance should they receive a Request for Evidence (RFE) or a Notice of Intent to Deny (NOID) from USCIS after they file their TPS applications. Most people who receive immigration legal services through a group application workshop will probably leave the workshop without having a legal representative. If they apply for TPS and receive a notice from USCIS in the mail, they might not understand what to do with the notice (especially if they do not read English).

If you do not respond to an RFE or a NOID within the time period specified, the USCIS most likely will deny the TPS application. Therefore, it is essential that people who leave group application workshops and who do not currently have legal representation, receive clear guidance on where to go to obtain competent immigration legal services after they apply for TPS (i.e., give them a list of authorized and reputable nonprofit immigration legal service organizations and/or reputable immigration attorneys).

They provide translation services (Creole-speaking FDC staff), housing counseling (English, Creole, and Spanish), and public benefits counseling (English, Creole, and Spanish). We do not have immigration lawyers on staff, and we are not BIA recognized. We are not proposing to do TPS applications ourselves (unless we get a lawyer on staff), but to help lawyers and other orgs to organize legal clinics. We have extensive connections to the Haitian community in Flatbush, as well as other community orgs. In addition, we have a Creole speaking staff member that we are willing to send to other orgs to provide translation services if they do not have Creole speaking lawyers on staff.

The Immigration Justice Clinic of Pace University School of Law

Could assist a small number of Haitians with analyzing their eligibility and if appropriate, applying for TPS. We also do handle removal proceedings and other types of applications, but we have a pretty full docket of those cases. We would also be interested in going out to community organizations to provide guidance about TPS and especially to warn people about the risks of exploitation and overcharging by commercial service providers.
